

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Supply Intelligence for Print Audit.

Maximize the benefits of Print Audit with Supply Intelligence integration - reduce supply costs and cut your time per supply call.

Cincinnati, OH, July 28, 2017 - Gwentaa is pleased to announce the availability of Supply Intelligence for Print Audit™ and eAutomate™. Supply Intelligence is the premier supply team decision tool that has been shown to reduce time per call by over 50% and your overall supply cost by up to 20%. Connecting Print Audit to Supply Intelligence lets your supply team view the Print Audit device details and the ERP order history and supply utilization on the same dashboard.

A recent adoptee of supply intelligence wrote: "I would like to thank the wonderful team at Gwentaa for developing a product that not only cut our supply cost by almost 20% but also allows our supply team to have the information they need at their fingertips to work with our customers in a professional and well informed manner. Our customers are impressed with the knowledge our supply team is able to share with them. Supply Intelligence does what they say it does... and more!!"

"Supply Intelligence has made a major impact on our bottom line."

About Print Audit

Established in 1999 and headquartered in Calgary, Alberta, Print Audit's mission is to save the office equipment industry through transformation. The company does this through its Premier membership program and innovative partnerships.

Print Audit is the most comprehensive provider of device and print management solutions. The company not only helps members remotely manage their printer fleets, but has also developed a variety of tools that enable organizations to monitor and control user printing behavior. Print Audit is the first provider of RMM (remote monitoring and management services) to provide an SBB (Seat Based Billing) model for managed print.

Print Audit has offices located worldwide. Visit www.printaudit.com to learn more.
